

WHAT WE DO

A Community Enhancing the Workforce in Healthcare

ultraHealth Agency, is an elite medical staffing company that focuses on a white glove approach.

Our interviewing, credentialing, and follow up set us apart from the rest. Our process enables us to provide top tier candidates.

We pride ourselves in sourcing medical professionals that are credentialed, compassionate, and professional.

We believe in person-to-person interviews, so we are able to get to know the candidate, they feel comfortable in the process, and we are assured they are competent to do their jobs.

WHO WE ARE

We are big enough to meet your medical staffing demands, and agile enough to dedicate the time to finding the right talent to fit your needs. We are here so that your company can focus on what you do best

Who We Are Not

Average.

We are unlike any staffing company you have ever worked with before.

"When you work with ultraHealth, you will be delighted with their team's professionalism, organization, and customer centricity the same way I was. They always made me feel like my initiatives were a top priority. Job well done! I recommend their services"

-Daniel Shanahan

ultraHealth Agency is strong team committed to finding the best candidates for your hospital or surgery center.
We will thoroughly evaluate the applications to determine who to select for an interview.

Candidates go through various screening processes, from: competency tests, throughout review of resumes, phone interviews, credentialing and reference checks, to finally interviewing with the supervisor of the client facility.

We also check each candidate's credentials and verify:

- Education
- Prior Employment
- Licenses and Certifications
- Any Disciplinary Actions

Should the candidate not work out, we will provide a replacement free of charge within the first 90 days.

With ultraHealth Agency's in-depth approach, you can be sure that you are getting competent and risk-free candidates!
